

The Center for Asian American Media (CAAM) is thrilled to announce the return of CAAMFest San Jose, taking place September 4-7, 2014. CAAMFest San Jose presents films and events reflecting the impact and influence of Asian Americans in Silicon Valley and their continuous innovation in technology, arts, and culture, media and communities.

APCA Northern California is happy to be a part of CAAMFest San Jose as co-presenters for a special screening of YURI KOCHIYAMA, a Japanese American icon and civil rights activist who continues to inspire new generations of Asian Americans (and beyond). Yuri Kochiyama passed away at the age of 93 this past June. Director Rea Tajiri will be in attendance. Thursday, September 4 at 7p.m at the Japanese American Museum of San Jose. RSVP required. Please RSVP to PublicPrograms@JAMsj.org.

Opening Film: Meet the Patels – Friday, September 5th
Time: 7 p.m.
Cost: $20
Location: Camera 3, 288 S. Second St , San Jose, CA

Opening Night Gala
Time: 9 p.m.
Cost: $20
Location: San Jose Asian Art Museum, 535 N 5th St, San Jose, CA

CAAMFest San Jose tickets and passes:

General Admission tickets (to all other screenings):

$12 (General Public)
$ 9 Discounted tickets use promo code: CAAMSJGUEST (AT&T, APCA, & Community Partners)

Purchase tickets to Opening Film and Gala: Purchase tickets online here

For more information on this year's CAAMFest San Jose 2014 film screenings and gala events, visit CAAMFest San Jose Schedule.

Track your volunteer hours

[Visit us
on tSpace](#)

Connect on LinkedIn

Share your pics

Asian Pacific Islanders for Professional & Community Advancement (APCA) is a 501c3 nonprofit organization focused on the representation of Asian Pacific Islanders employed by AT&T, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries.